market, and even at 10,000 paper dollars a league could not find buyers.

From the windows of the railway coach the excursionists can see the “opera” of the railroad and the plains where yesterday an entire plains were not. Nay more, these excursionists from Olavaria to the Naposta have the mirror held before them, to show their error judgments and their blunders, and their mistakes in doubting the country and its future.

The whistle of the locomotive in the Bahía Blanca reaches the streets of Buenos Aires and produces the echo of the march of the country to those who never yet believed in it. We have other evidences equally corroborative of our progress, yet there are many who do not see them. The country advances with the most rapid strides, but few of us can keep up with it. There is a month in this city whose opinions and judgments are the same as in 1869 when the founder of the Great Southern Railway, the late Mr. Edward Lathin, had to post a man on Calle Buen Orden Hill to mark the carts, horses and people entering, in order to prove to our legislators that there was traffic enough to support a railway.

It is the people of this country who are so much as the country itself, that the Plata would take precedence of all others, so that its elements, so indestructive its resources.

The train dashes along at the foot of the mountains of Cumaná, and Indians have Mr. Ochoy's mare and sheep by the thousand, ten thousand, and she, hundred thousand, to the frank and that of Mr. Ezequiel Moore, with the bones of the Indian Princess in the great Cumaná cave.

Could it be the top of the top of Cumaná main to have the Indian banner over us as we pass with lightning speed beneath, mayhap some of that excursion party would drink inspiration to guide them homeward in their judgment of this country and to open their eyes to the tremendous lesson which the Bahía Blanca teaches.

THE NEW LOAN.

The negotiation of the new Argentine loan for 30 millions paper can be at last announced, the business having been concluded by telegram between the Finance Minister of the Argentine Republic, Dr. V. de la Plaza, and the Syndicate of European bankers, of which the great London banking-house of Morgan & Co. forms part. The very high standing of Messrs. Morgan & Co.

and the favorable conditions upon which the loan is concluded justify us in saying that this is the most useful financial operation of the Argentine Republic since the late Mr. Rosas.

It is a pity that the Argentine representatives and successors of the world-renowned firm of Peabody &

Co., and they met in London with the Rothschilds and the Barings.

The placing of a 5 per cent. Argentine loan for such a large amount as six millions sterling at so high a

the whole amount in such a manner, is really a victory for General Rosas and his brilliant Minister of Finance.

It is a pity that the Argentine

representatives and successors of the world-renowned firm of Peabody &

THE SCOTCH CHURCH.

SACRED CONCERT.

The concert given at the above place of worship on Wednesday night, on the occasion of opening the superb new organ of the church, was a great success. Long before 8 o'clock the church was densely crowded with a select audience, mostly of the fair sex.

The proceedings were presided over by the esteemed pastor of the church, the Rev. W. F. Fleming, who, whose unfailing exertions this very successful concert is in a great measure due. The Rev. gentleman presided ably, and the audience, thanking all those who had contributed to obtain the organ, and expressing how pleased he felt at being present at its opening trial, in the able hands of the Rev. Mr. Davis, of Flores Chapel, who had kindly consented to preside at the performance; he also thanked Mrs. Nichol and Professor Mohr for their valued assistance.

At the conclusion, all those who in any way had contributed to it.

The concert then began with an over-tune by the organ by the Rev. Mr.

Davis, and it was at once apparent that the Rev. gentleman was a master of the instrument, which is so truly grand when in such hands. Chorists "Introsuites" was most impressively performed by the orchestra and organ and greatly appreciated. Mrs. Nichol then sang Mendelssohn's soprano solo "Mourning" in such a perfect manner that the audience was in a state of ecstasy, and in loud applause, when they remembered that they were in a church, not a theatre. Mrs. Nie-chol was equally effective as soloist in

"As Pants the Heart," with chorus. We must also highly compliment Mrs.

Cooke who took the solo in "The Seven Words," with chorus organ and orchestra, a splendid "morceau," and excellently rendered.

The Rev. Mr. Davis opened the Second Part again on the organ, bringing out the splendid properties of the instrument, even with greater effect than in the first part. The Rev. gentleman is himself an expert at the organ, and this is the eighth instrument of the kind he has inaugurated.

The rendering of Chopin's "Et corium by chorus, organ and orchestra was magnificent, and the same may be said of that exquisite composition Gounod's "Ave Maria." Mrs. Nichol again charmed the crowded audience by her faultless rendering of Schubert's "Lullaby," which, which nothing could better. Perhaps the gem of the whole evening was the "Chorus" (Krone), a cohort solo, with orchestra accompaniment by Professor Maudslayi. It was very the "home bond" for the last time. Paganini himself never evolved so sweetly from the instrument of instruments (when in such hands), and all present looking on with pleasure, and we were supplied with tea and refreshment.

As we ventured to predict some days ago, the Scotch Church concert has proved the musical event of the season, and we must warmly congratulate the Committee on their great success. There were over 600 ladies and gentlemen present.

ceived.

at the instance of the Earl of Carnaron a conversation took place with respect to the Earl of Derby, Lord

Norton, and Lord Denham took part.

In the House of Commons, on the motion to go into Committee of Supply, Mr. Parnell called attention to the question of local taxation. Sir Charles Dilke pointed out that this could not be devised from the subject of local government. A measure dealing with local taxation was ready for introduc-

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Republics of Argentina and Paraguay were joined on Tuesday night, and the President of the Republic of Argentina, General Roca, and the President of the Republic of Paraguay, General Caballero, exchanged liberal, equal and fraternal telegrams on the very auspicious occasion. Paraguay will not feel so isolated in future.

The papers describe glowingly General Roca's clock, which was handed over on Monday by the Supreme Court to the Municipality, and placed in its Sessions Hall. We have not had time yet to go and see this historical time-piece, but the published particulars about it lead us to suppose that it is a Connecticut wooden clock "y nada más."

There is a gentle breeze at La Plata, and the Municipality and the contractor for the banquet to the general public there last week. Covers were laid, by contract, for 2500 mouths, but 4000 ravenous mortals fell on the pro- vider, and the contractors want to be paid for the extra 1500 dinars. This is only fair.

The Italiana is coming and going in almost equal numbers. The Orione has brought out 220 emigrants. She made the run in 21 days, six of which were very stormy.

The National gunboat Uruguay has not started yet for Europe, although she was to have sailed yesterday. Yesterday morning a lot of cases of wine and other good things were sent off to her from the passengers.

The new batch of emigrants for La Plata will soon arrive. When put together, they will be offered for sale, there are two two-story houses amongst them.

The Times sneeringly remarks "that if you want your grave dug in Memphis they make you pay cash in advance." "Once allow a man to try on his grave and he will never come back to pay for it."

The Administration of the Revenue Office in San Nicolas has requested the head office in this city to send workmen to repair the deposits there which, he complains, admit rain as if they had no roofs. With the winter so near us, the sooner the work is finished the better.

When the train runs through to Bahia Blanca, the passengers will be able to breakfast in La Flores, and dine at La Gama, arriving at 6:40 a.m. next day.

There was in the Buenos Aires Custom House deposits on Tuesday the enormous quantity of 224,000 bales of merchandise. This figure has never before been reached.

There is and has been a bigrow going on between the sanitary port doctors and the Custom House authorities. The latter contend that the doctors have no right to be carried in their vessels, and the matter has been laid before the Finance Minister who has decided in favor of the "medicos." He says, however, that on board the transport or tender the master has full and complete authority, being in no way subject to the wishes or requirements of the health officers.

The Circus troupe in the Politeama are still to the front with novelties. The "wonderful ladder" is very pretty, though it doesn't seem to take with the public, but the three horizontal bars of Mr. Lockard are worth going a long way to see. The Carlo Brothers are, of course, as energetic as ever in the public's service and quite a host in themselves. The clown, F. Brown, is infinitely in the pantomimes.

La Plata is making great strides towards fame. As the Senators and Deputies are might find the water of the Port too cold in winter, they are doing their utmost to warm it, and, as Mr. Arlitz, an Italian of course, has already commenced putting up a bathing establishment. Prices not yet known.

The latest advices from the provinces are as follows:—

The construction of the Andine railway is carried on very actively; and before the end of the month it is hoped all the materials necessary for the placing of the rails up to Mendoza will be received. We are very much interested in the fact that the Legislature of Santa Fe, elected last Sunday, will resign. The opening of the Santa Fe Senate and Chamber of Deputies will take place on the first of next month.

It appears that Governor Zavalla is again seriously ill. Last Monday 1,000 tons of wheat were dispatched to Buenos Ayres. The Paraná is still going down. A decree was issued by the Government, giving the Customs House and the deposits of the Rosario, the Customs House, from Mendoza, we hear that last Saturday night the fête in General Sarmiento's honor took place with great éclat. Amongst those who made speeches, Dr. Astorga made a "discurso," in which he is lost in admiration of Sarmiento's merits. Messrs. Leopoldo and Benigno Díaz read two pieces of poetry, which excited general applause. The fête wound up by a short speech from General Sarmiento, who warmly thanked the assistants for their kind and sympathetic manifestations.

From Cordoba we hear that the Minister of Finance, Mr. Olmos, started last Monday for Buenos Ayres. Private affairs are the object of his journey. Mr. Barrios, who has been named professor of Geography and History in the female school at Cordoba, which was founded by the Provincial Government.

From Entre Ríos we hear that the very probable that Governor Bazzano will visit Villa Urquiza, before going to the provinces. The Sociedad de Beneficencia is organising a fête for the benefit of the Paraná Hospital. The National engineer, Mr. John McGee, has arrived at La Plata. He has finished his work on the levelling of lands from Uruguay to La Plata, and will send his report shortly to the Minister.

The captain of the Colombia Mar, at present in the Boca, offers his vessel to the Prefectura Marítima. For a light-ship for Bahia Blanca. He proposes to establish the C.M. at a distance of one mile from the South East of the first buoy. His conditions to the Government include the reason to be used, 4 anchors and 18 coils of chain, 2 square of land at Punta Hornos, and authority to collect during the space of 20 years a fixed import on all vessels entering and leaving the port.
